POWERS AND HOWARD

Removed to Louisville Jail for Safe Keeping.

Caleb Powers and James Howard were taken to Louisville from Georgetown, Ky., and placed in jail on Wednesday afternoon. The removal was made at the request of Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin on the ground that the Georgetown jail would not be perfectly secure in the event of an attempt to secure the liberty of the prisoners. Powers and Howard stated on their affidavit in Louisville that they were ignorant of the reasons for their removal and scoffed at any attempt at release pending the action of the Court of Appeals on their cases.

The following is the affidavit of the Jailer of Scott county:

STATE OF KENTUCKY, COUNTY OF SCOTT
S. C. T.
Jas. Finley: "I am the Jailer of Scott county, Ky., and have in my custody in the jail of said county James Howard and Caleb Powers.

"I am informed that there is on foot in certain sections of this State among friends and sympathizers of the above mentioned Howard and Powers a secret movement, the object of which is to have a number of armed and desperate men visit Georgetown, rescue from my custody and the jail of this county the said Howard and Powers and set them at liberty. I have learned of the above indicated determination on the part of the friends of said Howard and Powers by having seen and read letters received at the jail here addressed to said parties, respectively, two of which letters, one to Howard and one to Powers,

I copy herewith and which read as follows:

Dundee, Ky., 9, 29, 1903.

"My Dear Jim:—Your letter received, and in reply will say I clear forgot the matter and never pushed it as I should. I made up $3.50, for which you will find check enclosed. Just hold on till Belknap gets in and you will be all right. If they try to hog us out this time there is going to be trouble in camp and if they succeed in doing so, you will be set at liberty. Wishing you good luck in your case, will close. You will find list of names recorded who contributed.

Respectfully,
A. B. Wedding, D. P. A.

"The following letter came in an envelope addressed to Hon. Caleb Powers, Georgetown, Scott county, Ky., and reads:

Wallum, Ky., Sept. 15, 1903.
"Kind Sir: We are all very sorry of your sad misfortune, but you are not in as much danger as some 'Goebellite' might suppose. Be of good cheer, and let no partisan verdict induce you to be discouraged, for never while liberty bears the banner of freedom will you be placed on the gallows to answer for the murder of Wm. Goebel. They may try and find you guilty, as they claim it, but you are as safe as a babe in its mother's arms. When they think they have you safe they will awake to find you far away from danger and death. Be up-headed and don't be discouraged.

Yours,
G. J. JARVIS.

"I also have in my possession a letter addressed to a gentleman at Frankfort, Ky., who holds a State office, and which, under date of September 23, from the county of Knox, Caleb Powers' home county, reads as follows:

"Dear Sir: I have reliable authority that a secret plan is on foot among the tried Republicans here (I don't know how large or how far the plot extends,) to take a crowd of armed men to Georgetown, so as to avoid suspicion, and take Powers from the authorities. I will keep you informed as to developments. The plan is being worked very secretly and it is very hard to get facts, but this is certainly their plan. Act in the manner as you think best, but please keep my name out of it. If they should learn that I had had anything to do with informing on them I don't believe I would stay on this side of Jordan very long. I will try and get at the secret and plans of the crowd and if I can I will let you know immediately of developments."

Because of the matters and things above set out, I am apprehensive that there will be an effort to release said Howard and Powers and desire that they be removed to some other and stronger jail.

"Jos. Finley,"
Subscribed and sworn to before me by Jos. Finley this October 13, 1903.
J. S. FLEMING.

The Man to Watch.

As citizens of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do not send to the Legislature friends of the saloon to look after the interests of the State. There is something fearfully inappropiate in such a proceeding.

HEADQUARTERS!

WE ARE STILL HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL THAT IS LATEST, BEST AND MOST TASTEFUL IN Dress Goods, Silks, Ladies' and Childrens' Cloaks, Furs, Hosiery &c., &c.

Special attention is called to our FANCY WORK DEPARTMENT, where we have all the new ideas.

Madam Knott still has charge of the Dressmaking Department and Mr. Vleck remains at the head of the Ladies' Tailoring Department. They need no introduction to the ladies of Montgomery County.

propriate in such a proceeding. The friend of the saloon is in alliance with lawlessness, disorder, vice, political corruption; he is on the side of crime and social degradation, whether he is willing to admit it or not. The man who goes to the Legislature on the saloon ticket, through saloon money and influence, ought to be suspected and watched by all good people, by all guardians of the Commonwealth, by all faithful citizens anxious to discharge their public duties.

A man who is conscientiously in favor of the saloon is stupid; a man who can be bought by the liquor power is a traitor to his country; a man who supposes that the people are not interested in the liquor question is deceiving himself. The people want sober men as law makers, as those delegated to express and embody in law the wishes and sentiment of the better citizens of the State.—Christian Federation.

THE OLD RELIABLE

Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

WILL HE STEAL ANY MORE CHICKENS?

A Boy Publicly Whipped

On Thursday morning Clarence Hatcher, colored, aged about 12 years was arraigned in County Court for stealing chickens. He pled guilty. Judge Hazeirigg told the boy's sister that he would send the boy to jail for 60 days, but that if she would give her brother a "good whipping" he would release the boy. She agreed. The boy was brought to the east entrance of court house. The sister, who is a strong and heavy woman in fine fighting condition, took a cow-hide, short whip and began the chastisement.

As our Facts and Observation man entered the postoffice, he saw the woman and boy entering the court house yard followed by white men. The whipping began. It was very severe. We counted the strikes till more than 50 were given. We thought the boy had had enough, so we crossed the street to court house door and asked an officer: "How long is this to continue? It was soon stopped, not because of our query perhaps, but probably because others thought the limit had been reached. The whipping was the voluntary act of the sister and not the execution of an official penalty. During the recent Circuit Court this same boy was whipped on same condition with consent of Judge Cooper.

The first flogging did not prevent repetition of theft. If this second is not effective, the outlook for that boy is not encouraging. One gentleman remarked to us: "that whipping is a disgrace to the town." No doubt the boy is a hard one, and deserves severe treatment, if such will reform. Our readers will remember that the Judge permitted, but did not order the whipping.

Sweeping Injunction Against Labor Unions.

At Hamilton, Ohio, on Oct. 13, Judge Belden granted one of the most sweeping injunctions ever issued by an Ohio court. It was directed against the Hamilton Typographical Union, the Hamilton Co-operative Trades and Labor Council and the Nonpareil Printing Company, publishers of the county trade organ.

The defendants are enjoined from continuing a boycott on the Republican News or firms which advertise in it, and ordered that interference of every sort with the company's business must stop. The court said the Constitution gave any company the right to employ whomsoever they saw fit. The boycott was to force the plaintiff to unionize.

ADVOCATE PUBLISHING CO.

Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1903.

Entered in the Post Office at Mt. Sterling as Second Class Mail Matter.

A CONTRAST.

On September 30, a dispatch was sent from Greep, Ky., saying: "A. T. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, made a most intemperate speech here in advocacy of the Republican cause."

He devoted most of it to the Caleb Powers trial. He said if he was Governor he would pardon Powers the first official act of his life and he believed Belknap would also do so when he read the evidence.

John W. Yerkes in his speech in this city on last Monday evening, declared that he would not vote for Mr. Belknap if he (Yerkes) believed or had reasonable grounds to believe that Mr. Belknap had committed himself one way or the other concerning a pardon for Caleb Powers.

A PLEA.

We have just read with much wonder, the stretch of imagination of some of our quill drivers when they seek to make the impression of great crowds to meet Major Belknap and party on their campaign tour through the Tenth Congressional District. The facts are these—nothing more or less: The party were met by enthusiastic Republicans who are largely in the minority and by respectful Democrats who are as certain to vote under the rooster as the sun is to rise on election morning. Of course the point is that if it were possible to make the people believe the Republicans would be victorious, they would gain votes from parties who desire to be on the majority side.

YERKES' MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

We take it that Mr. Yerkes is in earnest when he declares he would not vote for Mr. Belknap if he believed he had committed himself one way or the other relative to Caleb Powers and the pardoning power. Now we have this opinion of Mr. Belknap: He is a "business" man, and to be a successful business man he must read; read what? Within a scope of a prescribed business? No; for the successful business man must be generally informed. Did he read of the assassination of Gov. Goebel? Of the facts and circumstances that led to Caleb Powers' arrest? Of Powers' statement? Of the evidence in the trials? Did he form an opinion as to his guilt or innocence? We are sure he did, and if so he is committed; if he did not, then his reading goes for naught, and he could not be trusted in an opinion from facts and circumstances on any case or question. What kind of a fellow would he be for Governor? A figure head with trainee by his side to tell him when to nod or when to shake his head. To say Mr. Belknap has kept up with the Powers case is not far-fetched. He is committed in mind as to his guilt or innocence, and if guilty Mr. Belknap, as an honest man, would refuse pardon, and if innocent, extend to him relief from false charges, false swearing and wrong verdict. Such a statement, even from so great a man as Yerkes, will fool a very few, if any. It is only a dodge of a question the people demand Major Belknap to answer.

Republican leaders have said a Republican victory in Kentucky is a foregone conclusion, but we say Belknap and his boodle bags can not buy the honest convictions of Kentucky manhood. Watch our prediction.

IN TROUBLE.

The Republicans have been charging fraud and disgrace up to Democrats because of that Music Hall State Convention of time past, and doing their utmost to intensify the bitterness of party factions. They did accomplish some gains from among our weaker brethren, but what can they do or say now, when Bradley declares the high-handed, fraudulent methods of the Louisville Convention which nominated Belknap and running mates, so far eclipses it that it does not even suggest comparison. That convention must have been bad if Republicans would so talk it.

Here is another. It is from bad to worse: D. C. Edwards and W. Godfrey Hunter have had a hot time in Middlesboro. It does not stop there. One party and his friends go to London, (where Taylor wanted to send a Kentucky Legislature) for the purpose of declaring Mr. Edwards the Republican nominee for Congress, while Mr. Hunter hastens to Frankfort to demand his rights by asking Secretary of State to order his name on the ballots as a candidate for Congress in the Eleventh District.

There is a warm feeling between these gentlemen and their friends, which will not redound to Democratic gain because Republicans take their own medicine.

DEMOCRATS WIN.

In an election in Indianapolis last week the Democrats elected a Mayor and two other officers. There was much dissatisfaction among the Republicans with the election gain because Republicans and many Republicans voted against him. The Prohibition candidate received nearly 6,000 votes. This incident is but one of the manifestations of revolt against the "gang rule" or dictates of party bosses. A few experiences like this will teach the party leaders the importance and necessity of nominating CLEAN men. We rather like it, and no doubt the city will be under better management.

Why nominate men of whom, if elected, the masses would be ashamed?

A REFLECTION.

The person who would boldly declare the Democratic administration in Kentucky a class of assassins and all constituents parties to such deacon sneaking crimes is himself either too ignorant to use pen and paper pad, or too dishonest to merit the respect of truthful people.

What party was it with a Chief Executive that permitted an assassin within the State Building to do his deadly work? A Democrat? Let the honest voter answer.

Who was it that caused the arrest and prosecution that led to the conviction of the perpetrators? Republicans? Again the voter may answer.

Who was it that brought to swift punishment the slayer of James B. Marcum, so well known and respected in Mt. Sterling? Republicans? Again the voter in judgment would answer: They did not have a thing to do with this conviction. Then what think the voters of any man who would seriously condemn the action of the Democratic party in Kentucky?

The man that has the best meats and that goes from house to house is Joseph Botts. He drives a yellow mare. By the yellow mare is the way you may know the wagon with the best beef, mutton and pork.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. A. M. Ross, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, preached at the Sharpsburg Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Horace Turner, pastor of the M. E. Church, delivered quite an interesting sermon on missions to his congregation Sunday morning, presenting some new thoughts.

Prayer meeting at First Presbyterian church on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. Usual services next Sunday. The morning topic will be compensations.

The topic at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning Nov. 1st, will be "How Shall I Vote?" The public generally, but especially men are cordially invited.

Every member of Mt. Sterling Baptist church and congregation is requested to be at the church next Sunday morning. Sunday school 9:30 a. m., preaching 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. B. Y. P. U., 6 p. m.

Rev. J. W. Smith, pastor of the C. M. E. church, of this city, and Noah Magowan left for the Kentucky C. M. E. Conference which meets at Glasgow Wednesday. Rev. Smith is very acceptable to his people here and they are hoping the Bishop will return him to this field.

Rev. W. H. Brown has returned from Little Rock, Bourbon county, where he has been conducting a series of meetings at the colored Christian church of that place for the past two weeks. Results: Seventeen conversions, two of whom were Catholics.

Ebenezer Presbytery met in Frankfort last week. Rev. J. N. Ervin was elected moderator and Rev. George A. Joplin clerk. The reports from the different churches showed unusual activity during the last six months. Not only had old churches been strengthened, but new fields had been opened and developed, giving promise of larger work in the future. Presbytery adjourned to meet in Maysville next April.

Rev. John E. Abbott delivered his farewell sermon as pastor of the Southern Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. This was Mr. Abbott's first pastorate after graduating at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Louisville and his work was eminently successful. His people were led into paths of higher usefulness than before and his duty was performed in that he persuaded his people to lead more Godly lives. He leaves his church in much better working condition than when he found it and a largely increased membership. The churches of the city dismissed Sunday evening to give their congregations an opportunity to attend his last service. Mr. Abbott goes to Marshall, Mo., where he has accepted the pastorate of the church there which is larger and gives him an opportunity to increase his usefulness. Though young, Mr. Abbott ranks high with the ministers of his church and with continued health and by study will doubtless lead at the top with the ministry of his church in his adopted State. His family are very interesting, valuable acquisitions and will be of much profit to Marshall church circles. It is with much regret the Advocate accepts the withdrawal of Revs. Abbott and Bolin from our religious columns.

Rev. W. J. Bolin was with his people at the Baptist Church at the Wednesday evening prayer meeting for the last time. A large and appreciative audience met him. He left the city Saturday afternoon to meet an appointment at the Clinton Church and will arrive at Baton Rouge, Friday and preach his first sermon as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Sunday morning. As soon as his household effects can reach the city and the pastor's home can be put in order his family, now at Rugby, Tenn., will join him. Mr. Bolin will always have a warm place in the hearts of the people of Mt. Sterling and his return whether as a citizen or visitor will always meet with an ovation. At Baton Rouge he will be the pastor of Governor W. W. Heard and the church, from what information we can gather, is by odds the strongest in influence in the State. Mr. Bolin's pastorate here has been a most successful one; the church has been strengthened by numbers; the brethren have grown in grace, and the missionary spirit has been greatly enlarged under his ministry. While doing the work here he served at Howard's Mill for a period and held meeting at churches in other counties in the State which resulted in hundreds of additions. Mrs. Bolin is in reality a pastor's wife, aiding in Sunday School and Young People's work and as a member of the choir. We commend them to the good people of our South land, praying that God will richly bless them in the work to which they have been called. The Baptist Church here, the Bracken Association and the State at large suffer greatly by Mr. Bolin's going to another State, for he was indeed a power in whatever work he engaged. May the Lord use, bless and keep him.

Public Sale.

Having rented my farm and desiring to locate in town, I will, on Thursday, October 29, at 10 o'clock at my place on Mt. Sterling and Winchester pike, 3 miles from Mt. Sterling, expose to sale the following:

Yerkes.

Hon. Jno. W. Yerkes spoke to a crowded court-room on Monday evening. His speech, in striking contrast with what is sometimes made by Republicans, was free from invective and abuse. He denied that Republicans were responsible for unfortunate conditions for five years in Kentucky. They came with the Goebel election law. He considered largely Gov. Beckham's Winchester speech, condemning his utterances about pardons and the Callahan claims. He said the Gov. error had no authority to allow such fee. He deplored the assassination of Gov. Goebel.

Will Move to Jackson

W. W. McGuire, of West Liberty has recently purchased the Dr. Dailey Homestead for $2,000, and will move his family here soon. Mr. McGuire began practicing law here about thirty years ago, but moved to West Liberty in the early 80's where he has resided ever since.—Breathitt News.

Six Cents For Election.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, Va., issued a list of certificates of expenses filed by the various candidates for the Senate and House in the recent primaries. The highest was that of the two Fulton brothers, successful Democratic candidates for the Senate. Each spent about $166.

The lowest was that of Mr. James R. Catton, who spent only six cents to obtain his return to the House from Alexandria. Ten cents was all the expense attending the return of Senator C. Harding Walker to the Senate. Few candidates spent as much as $50 and only four exceeded the one hundred mark.

These were the expense under the new Barksdale pure election law and are far below the cost to candidates heretofore.—New York Herald.

Rush of Our Apples Abroad.

All records for the exportation of American apples to Europe, Germany, France and the United Kingdom are being broken. A total of 75,000 barrels, or sufficient to fill about 430 ordinary box railroad cars, will go out this week. There has not been so much demand for American apples as at present.

Every big liner is taking away immense loads of apples from this State and Virginia. The Teutonic took 12,000 barrels, and the Arabic 15,000, the Oceanic 18,000 and the Cymric 12,000. In Germany the better grade of American apples is selling at $6.50 per barrel.—Courier Journal, October 13.

Col. Belknap Voted For a Negro Over a Mountain Democrat.

J. W. ASBURY.

Records in Jefferson County Court House ---Election of August 6, 1893.

Republican Nominee for Governor Cast Ballot for J. W. Asbury, a Negro, Over George Cecil of Pike County.

Preferred That a Black Man Should Be Register of the Land Office—Brother Voted the Same Way.

In all his speeches Col. Belknap, the Republican nominee for Governor, has made the claim that he wants Kentucky to become one of the best States in the Union and declares that he wants the Commonwealth to be governed by men who will "restore the State to her former proud position and make it a fit place to rear our sons and daughters." While Col. Belknap has been making this statement throughout the length and breadth of Kentucky, a record was found in the office of Wm. J. Semolin, the County Clerk of Jefferson county, which Democrats claim makes his position inconsistent. The record is now in the office of Mr. Semolin and will be exhibited to all persons who have any doubt as to Col. Belknap's vote in the State Election of August 6th, 1893.

The record is intact and shows that on that day in the Third Precinct of the Seventh Ward in the city of Louisville, "the kid gloved and aristocratic" nominee for Governor voted for J. W. Asbury, a blue grass negro and the Republican nominee for Register of the Land Office, over George Cecil, a Pike county mountain Democrat and a gentleman of high standing.

That was when the Register of the Land Office was elected by the people and was voted for just the same as the Governor, the State Auditor and the State Treasurer are voted for now. In that year the negroes demanded representation on the Republican State ticket and Asbury, the negro, was put on as the nominee for Register of the Land Office. The Democrats nominated Mr. Cecil who was widely known throughout the State and especially in the mountains as a man of the highest integrity and ability.

Notwithstanding the fact that Asbury was a black man and was not qualified in any sense of the word to fill the office to which he aspired, Col. Belknap, because he was a Republican and "having the best interests of the State at heart," voted for the negro over Mr. Cecil.

Col. Belknap was not the only member of the Belknap family however to go on record in favor of electing a negro to office over a respectable white man as his brother, Mr. Wm. R. Belknap, voted in the same precinct of the same ward on August 6th, 1893 and cast his ballot for Asbury over Mr. Cecil.

Numerous Republicans make the boast that they are the friends of the mountain people. The Democrats want to know if the good people of the mountains of Kentucky want to have negroes in their State offices.

The Democrats of Kentucky want to know if there is any one who has the slightest doubt that if Morris B. Belknap should be elected Governor that he would not appoint negroes to the offices which he will have to fill as Chief Executive of the Commonwealth. If he preferred a negro to a white man in 1893, the Democrats want to know if he has undergone any change since that time.

These are questions which the Democrats of Kentucky and the people of the mountains and Col. Belknap's "Sambo" friends are entitled to know. During Col. Belknap's present tour through Eastern Kentucky he might do well to tell the people of the Kentucky mountains whether he does prefer a negro in office to a mountain man in office.

The following is a certified copy of the poll book, showing Col. Belknap's vote.

CRYSTALS AND GEMS.

Beauties That May Be Observed Through a Magnifying Glass.

Sketching crystals is fine and delicate work, says Mines and Minerals, requiring much study, a sharp-pointed, hard pencil, and a steady hand. First of all, having selected your nest of crystals, it is well to study all the books have to say about them, etc., then take a large one magnifying glass and examine them closely under it. An unexpected world of beauty will thus often be revealed. If the crystals are in a little globe or cavity, such as is common in the zeolite class in volcanic rocks, you may see the fairylike cavern lined with sparkling gems, from which radiate tufts of fine silken hairs with a big gem crystal set in the midst; sometimes the cavern contains purple gems of amethyst or fluorapatite. You will observe crystals that have been stunted in their growth or misshapen by the pressing against them of other stronger growing crystals. You may see fine striae or parallel lines or indications of twinning of crystals; you will notice also the lines of cleavage characteristic of certain crystals and invisible to the naked eye, also crystals that have been broken and faulted and recemented by mineral matter.

Having thus thoroughly studied the crystals, place them on a piece of white paper in strong light and shadow. Draw the outlines clear and strong, and the angles and faces of the crystal sharply. Some crystals resemble one another so closely, like certain forms of calcite and quartz, that only by very careful drawing can one be distinguished from the other, especially without the use of color. In highly colored ores and crystals, some beautiful realistic effects have been attained by photography in color, but many ores and crystals have no distinctive colors; then you must rely on form. Again, some forms of crystals are identical in form with others of an entirely different order, and you may have to distinguish them by color. Shading, especially in transparent crystals, should be used sparingly, except when the shadow is very pronounced, or when the bases of the crystals descend into the deep depths and recesses of the globe cavern. To bring out distinctly the forms of white and translucent crystals it may be well to shade a dark background back of them.

Sometimes a row of quartz crystals in the center of a vein is locked in the embrace of an opalite set, like a row of clenched teeth. Occasionally these are beautifully tinted with amethystine purple, whilst back of them is a layer of milky white opaline quartz, agate, or chalcedony, and back of that a dense layer of red, yellow or variegated quartz. In drawing crystals the main point to be aimed at is their characteristic shape or grouping, so that anyone seeing the sketch may recognize them as belonging to a particular family. When crystals are very small, as in twin crystals of tin, or in crystals of telluride ores, it is legitimate to magnify the crystal so as to bring out its distinctive features. Some ores form a series of concentric rings, like green malachite and blue azurite of copper; they had better be represented by their natural vivid colors.

A Benevolent Despot.

President Diaz of Mexico plays the role of "benevolent despot" whenever in his judgment circumstances warrant. At one time his son-in-law became entangled with a rather disreputable club, the reputation of which became so unsavory that Diaz determined to break it up. One evening he invited his son-in-law to dinner and thought the young man ventured to hint at another engagement the president would take no excuse. He even had his son-in-law play billiards with him for an hour or so. Finally Diaz was called to the telephone, where he hastened to a report, after which he said: "I have just been in conversation with the chief of police, who has raised that question of resort which you have been frequenting. All your companions were arrested, as you would have been had you not been dining here. Good night."

Vigorous Old Age

Paine's Clery Compound makes the old feel young, and cures their ills. It has added years of health and enjoyment to many a life. Use this great medicine regularly, and its invigorating powers will fill your declining years with health, strength, and happiness. Read what George F. Morse, 67 years old, writes:—

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

Continued: I lost a word in favor of Paine's Clery Compound, hoping it may reach the eye of some afflicted person, and they may receive an ever so satisfactory benefit. Some 15 years ago I had a combination of malaria, chills and fever, and grip, which continued for a year or more; meantime I lost in weight about 60 pounds, trying different medicines and doctors with unsatisfactory results. Paine's Clery Compound was recommended, and, after using a little I began to improve, gaining about a pound a week. In a year I had regained to pounds of the lost weight and good health, and have been a well man ever since. Yours truly, GEORGE F. MORSE.

Another Resolution on Temperance.

(With one word "nominated" changed to "elected" and three words "to the Legislature" added) by a rising vote, the State Convention of the Christian Church in their recent session held in Paris adopted the following resolution.

"Resolved, We urge the Christian voters of our State to see to it that no man be elected to the Legislature by any party who is not definitely committed to the county unit Local Option Bill and to vote for the candidate thus committed regardless of party affiliations.

The church people must now decide whom they will serve in the election of the Legislature, the demands of the "party" or the voice of the church, if candidates will not commit themselves on Local Option legislation.

Since July 6, we have had in Kentucky twenty-one Local Option contests in precincts, districts, towns and counties. The "Drys" won in nineteen and lost in two.

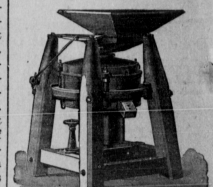

By actual count we now have, of the one hundred and nineteen counties in the State, sixty counties without the licensed saloons, thirty-one counties with saloons in but one place, fourteen counties with saloons in two places and three counties with saloons in but three places.

The people are becoming aroused and say the saloons "must go." Exchange.

Some Mt. Sterling People Profit by Neighbors' Experience.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child in Mt. Sterling who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

J. A. Barlow, furniture and fine crockery, 55 Short street says: "knowing what neglected warnings from weakened or overexcited kidneys mean. I became exceedingly anxious when pain in the back interfered with my work and strongly disinclined for business. Urged by my wife to try Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. A few days' treatment helped me. I grew careless, stopped taking them and I might have expected backache and restlessness at night would re-occur. Doan's Kidney Pills having helped me were again resorted to and I did not stop using them until I can conscientiously say that they act up to the representations made for them."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at the drug store of F. C. Duerson's and ask what his customers report.

TRAVELING IN EUROPE.

Railway Journeys Over There Not as Comfortable as in This Country.

"Going abroad?" asked a much traveled New Yorker of a friend he met on the pier, according to the New York Tribune.

"Well, you have my sympathy. How so? Well, if you do much traveling about the continent, even sympathy won't save you.

"You have never been there. You can have no idea of what traveling in Europe is like. I have been through it, I know all about it.

"They build their railroad coaches over there, you know, on the confounded compartment plan. But that wouldn't be so bad if the service itself were what it should be. Why, some American livestock travel with as much ease as the poorer classes in Europe. And the best those railroads afford is none too good. Their trains are funny little things, with little toy-like engines and rickety little cars. They look as if a good determined wind could tip them off the tracks.

"The first thing I look for on one of these trains is a place to put my feet. No, that's no joke. It's hard work finding a place for your feet on board one of those trains. And since you are tall you will have a trouble with the parcel racks. They call it a rack as a matter of courtesy, but as a matter of fact it is more like one of those women's shopping nets. With that banging around a man's head most of the joy of traveling fades away.

"But aside from such little annoyances as these, the compartment cars are a real menace to the personal safety of persons traveling alone, especially women. On some of the English roads a new style of car is now being used that is a sort of compromise between the compartment car and the American style car, having an aisle running through the middle.

"And let me caution you, if you are to do much traveling about Europe don't carry all your clothes. Oh, of course you will have to take enough along to keep inside the limitations of the law, but I mean don't lug a number of trunks along with you. In the first place baggage charges in Europe are high, and, in the second place, you are lucky if your trunks reach a given destination the same week you do.

"The man who confines himself to a grip and an umbrella in his travels about Europe affords a striking contrast to the mobs at every European railway station running about in a frantic endeavor to locate their trunks.

"If you must travel in Europe scale your traveling necessities down as close as possible."

GOV. NASH.

Presents Ohio Monuments to the Government.

The ten monuments erected on Anketam battlefield by the State of Ohio, including the one to the memory of President McKinley, were dedicated on Oct. 13 with appropriate exercises. The presence of many distinguished personages was a prominent feature of the day. Gen. Ian Hamilton, the famous British General, and party, including Sir Kay Muir, his brother-in-law, witnessed the dedication with great interest.

Gov. Nash's Address.

Gov. Nash, in presenting the monuments to the convention, said in part:

It is now more than forty years since the men whose deed of honor we thus honor, contended on this field. The monuments of bronze and granite which you have erected cannot make their fame more enduring, for their achievements are inscribed in history's imperishable pages. No words of ours can add to the luster of their patriotism, of purest ray, as it is already deeply enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen.

Neither are we here to boast over those who were then our foes. Ours is a loftier, more noble and patriotic purpose. They are no longer our enemies. They are our friends. We are all Americans. We love our country. We owe allegiance to one Government. We live under one flag, which each of us, I am sure, is ever ready to defend, now and evermore. If, when we leave this scene and the lessons here instructed, our love of country is not more sincere, our allegiance to our Government is not more firmly cemented and our love for the flag is not more intense, our coming together will have been for little purpose.

When the great conflict began and all seemed lost the President of the United States was of sufficient strength and nobility of purpose to look beyond the storm and to utter this message of hope: "Though passion may strain, it must not break our bonds of affection. The mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battle field and patriot grave to every loving heart and hearthstone, all over this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union, when again touched, as they surely will be by the better of angels of our nature. The better angels now hold sway. The prophecy of Lincoln has become history.

There was in this battle a young soldier from Ohio, by name William McKinley. He was the Commissary Sergeant of the twenty-third regiment, O. V. I. On the afternoon of the close of the battle, with much personal risk to himself, he supplied his hungry comrades with cooked rations upon

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had lightheadedness and ringing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed. I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using seven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

WINE OF CARDUI

that part of the field where they had violently contended for hours with their interlopers. For this act, the State of Ohio has erected upon the ground where this service was performed a beautiful monument and dedicated it to his memory.

Like Lincoln, he prayed that the passions of the Civil War might pass away, and that affection for the Union might be restored to all the people of this country. For this reason Ohio has taken all the more pleasure in erecting this monument. Fortunately, he lived to see the evidence of the cordial feeling, to which he contributed so much, between the North and the South, which existed during the Spanish-American War.

As the years go by it is our hope that whoever wanders over these fields and looks upon the monuments lovingly erected by his State to the memory of McKinley, will learn to love and reverence the flag as he loved and revered it.

A boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhea, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Acts promptly.

Pope Calls on Churches to Aid the Great Institution.

At Baltimore on October 13 Cardinal Gibbons gave out the following translation of the brief of Pope Pius X, relative to the Catholic University in Washington:

"To Our Beloved Son James, Cardinal Gibbons; Beloved Son; Health and Apostolic Benediction.

"The condition of the university at Washington has enlisted our deepest sympathy and concern, inasmuch as the report recently submitted by Your Eminence deposes that its affairs are not altogether so encouraging as we could wish.

"It is met that we should follow the example of our predecessor in the furtherance of noble projects, more especially such as are of promise of large advantage. Therefore, we learn with genuine satisfaction that the Bishops have charged that a collection be taken up in all the churches throughout the United States annually for ten years, from the first Sunday in Advent or the first convenient Sunday thereafter, with a view of enhancing the dignity and enlarging the influence of this noble seat of learning.

"That God may be pleased graciously to help this undertaking by His grace we lovingly impart to you and to the faithful committed to your care, the apostolic benediction.

"Given in Rome, at St. Peter's, on September 9, 1903, the first year of our Pontificate. PIUS, PP., X."

Monument to be Placed Over Horse's Grave.

Captain C. B. Jackson, whose home is near Hagertown, Ind., has ordered a handsome monument, which he will erect over the grave of Black Frank, his famous trotting horse, which died almost twenty years ago. Black Frank was one of the most famous horses of his day, and at the age of 22 trotted one of the fastest miles of the time.

Captain Jackson has sent out invitations to many horsemen and other citizens in this and other States to be present at the unveiling of the monument on to-day.

The horse was buried in the front yard of the owner's residence, and there the monument will be erected.

When Black Frank died he was wrapped in a silk flag and given a funeral, which was largely attended. The present monument is the fulfillment of a vow made by Captain Jackson at the time the horse died.

An elaborate program has been arranged to be presented at the unveiling ceremonies. There will be speeches, a presentation of Black Frank's history and notable performances, music, etc.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cure Me.

"It has been five years since I was cured of heart trouble by your Heart Cure and Nerve, and I am just as sound as a dollar in that regard today. For several years I had been suffering with my heart. Breathing had become short and difficult at times, sleep, weary pains about the heart, sometimes accompanied with fluttering would make me feel faint and languid. The least excitement or mental worry would almost unnerve me. I felt that the trouble was growing worse all the time, and after trying many remedies prescribed by physicians without obtaining relief, I was induced to give your medicine a trial. I was relieved the second day, and after taking three or four bottles all symptoms were removed and have never shown signs of returning."—Kav. Geo. W. KILACORE, Cincinnati, Va.

There are many symptoms of heart disease, which go closely resemble those of many common nervous disorders as to frequently mislead the attending physician. Often in cases of heart trouble the stomach, kidneys, liver or lungs become affected. Again the symptoms may be those of weakened nerves, as tired feeling, sleeplessness, timidity, the patient is easily excitable and apt to worry without cause. If you have the least suspicion that your heart is weak study your symptoms and begin the use of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the great heart and blood tonic, without a day's delay.

King Victor Is Thrifty.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy recently in the interests of economy had been cutting down the number of clerks in a government department, and had received a remonstrance from the head, who said he was short-handed. The king, being an early riser, went down to that department at nine o'clock in the morning, and, finding no clerks there, sat down to wait till they arrived. It was not until 11 that the first clerk turned up, and found that he had been keeping the king waiting for a couple of hours. The king reserved his wrath for the head of the department who had said he was short-handed.

The Most Profitable Crop.

The human hair is absolutely the most profitable crop that grows. Five tons of it are annually imported by the merchants of London. The Parisians harvest upwards of 200,000 pounds, each in value to $20,000 per annum.

Women at Work.

One woman in the English census figures is returned as a dock laborer and another as a pavior. There are also five female farm servants returned in charge of horses, while four women are working as bricklayers, four as boiler-makers, two as locksmiths and one as a cooper. In some other trades the number of women is surprising. Women brewers number nearly 100 and women builders 177, while the lightermen, bargemen, seamen, boatmen and pilots who, by their name, belong to the fair sex, run into several hundreds.

NOTICE—WE Now direct attention to the most varied, extensive and magnificent lines of merchandise ever presented in this section of the State. Time, energy, taste and much study have brought this store to an exalted plane of usefulness. With commodious display areas and bright, cheerful surroundings it is not surprising that this is recognized as the merchandising center of our city. We want your patronage, but not unless we deserve it. If there are worthier goods to be found elsewhere, if prices asked by others are lower than ours, quality considered, it is your privilege to profit by them; but facts prove that not to be case.
Our constant and vigorous growth of patronage is the strongest possible evidence of superior value-giving.

Democratic Speaking.
Hon. H. P. Kimball, of Fayette, and ex-Chief Justice, James H. Hazelrigg, of Frankfort, were here Monday in the interest of the Democratic party. Because this is Judge Hazelrigg's home county Mr. Kimball occupied the time. Mr. Kimball was powerful in argument but offensive to none. He declared that Democratic rule brings peace, quiet and prosperity wherever it reigns. That wealth, intelligence and virtue are characteristic of Democracy. That the Republican platform had its authorship and make up in Washington and that the men of the works had nothing to do in its making.
JAMES H. HAZELRIGG.

Ex-Chief Justice, James H. Hazelrigg, was in fine condition but spoke briefly. Democratic principles require Democratic organization. This effected and a great victory is ours. A departure from the ways of our fathers brings militarism. My blood boils when I remember our legislators chased from one place to another at the point of bayonets. A party of such methods can not be trusted as guardian of life and property. Have watched closely the administration at Frankfort and am here to say to my people, the wise, cautious and brave Governor Beckham can be trusted and is worthy of our suffrage. It was Belknap's money that brought him into notice and gained for him the nomination of the Republican party. He urged Democrats to support their ticket and to vote it straight.

R. K. Hart who is candidate for Railroad Commissioner, is making an active canvass. He finds the party with all wounds healed and in fine working order. An Up-to-Date Store With
Up-to-Date Methods—
Kaufman, Straus & Co.
12 and 14 West Main Street, Lexington, Ky.

NOTICE.—WE Now direct attention to the most varied, extensive and magnificent lines of merchandise ever presented in this section of the State. Time, energy, taste and much study have brought this store to an exalted plane of usefulness. With commodious display areas and bright, cheerful surroundings it is not surprising that this is recognized as the merchandising center of our city. We want your patronage, but not unless we deserve it. If there are worthier goods to be found elsewhere, if prices asked by others are lower than ours, quality considered, it is your privilege to profit by them; but facts prove that not to be case.
Our constant and vigorous growth of patronage is the strongest possible evidence of superior value-giving.

Democratic Speaking.

Hon. H. P. Kimball, of Fayette, and ex-Chief Justice, James H. Hazelrigg, of Frankfort, were here Monday in the interest of the Democratic party. Because this Judge Hazelrigg home county Mr. Kimball occupied the time. Mr. Kimball was powerful in argument but offensive to none. He declared that Democratic rule brings peace, quiet and prosperity wherever it reigns. That wealth, intelligence and virtue are characteristic of Democracy. That the Republican make up his authorship and platform in Washington and that the men of the works had nothing to do in its making.

JAMES H. HAZELRIGG.

Ex-Chief Justice, James H. Hazelrigg, was in fine condition but spoke briefly. Democratic principles require Democratic organization. This effected and a great victory is ours. A departure from the ways of our fathers brings militarism. My blood boils when I remember our legislators chased from one place to another at the point of bayonets. A party of such methods can not be trusted as guardian of life and property. Have watched closely the administration at Frankfort and am here to say to my people, the wise, cautious and brave Governor Beckham can be trusted and is worthy of our suffrage. It was Belknap's money that brought him into notice and gained for him the nomination of the Republican party. He urged Democrats to support their ticket and to vote it straight.

R. K. Hart who is candidate for Railroad Commissioner, is making an active canvass. He finds the party with all wounds healed and in fine working order. He would not be surprised that the majority against him would be overcome. Eastern Kentucky Republicans will not vote for Belknap and his ticket when he voted for the negro Asbury in preference to their associate, the lamented Cecil.

THE BUSY BEE CASH STORE

Was never, even in its zenith, more resplendent with beautiful merchandise for the Fall business. Every department is overflowing with choice stuff. The beauty and elegance of which surpasses anything ever seen in this city, and many large stores in the big cities will fall short when comparing stocks with this splendid array of attractive merchandise.

→ EVERY CORNER OF THE ORIENT ←

Has been ransacked to make this store different from any other, and never has it been so beautiful, so full of things you want. With the cash in one hand and a knowledge of our business in the other, we visited all of the great Dry Goods centers of the East, and now we will be proud to welcome you to come and see what we have accomplished.

"ACCOMPLISHED AT OUR STORE FOR YOU."

Not only do we offer you bargains in every department that are so ridiculously low in price as to really astonish you, but we are also showing in these departments styles that are up-to-date, qualities that are unquestionable and patterns that are owned and controlled exclusively by us. #### LINEN DEPARTMENT.

Judge a housewife by the linen in her house and "judge a dry goods store by its linen stock." Oe welcome this kind of judgement. We have carefully studied the linen business and we have carefully studied the linen market at home and abroad. We make the statement advisedly, that no such assortment of linens and no such values in linens can be found in any other store within a radius of 100 miles. We are showing honest, trustworthy linens that will wash and wear better than any you have ever had and the secret of their cheapness is that we tripple the sales on them by sharing the profits equally with you. This is linen evidence that speaks for itself. Get our cash prices on linen of all kinds.

THE WAGE WORKER'S DOLLAR

Often represents hours of arduous toil. When that dollar is spent it should command its fullest purchasing power. To give it that power is one of the vital principles of our business. The consequence is that our store is always crowded with throngs of eager buyers, who are taking advantage of the opportunities we have presented them. We are certain you will buy here. We haven't an old coat nor suit in our entire collection. The care we give to these garments is a sufficient guarantee of their excellence.
